Dear Texas Historical Commission,

I would like to tell you that Debi Lamb and her team at Penguin Suits inc. make a powerful marketing force. They worked as a united force to create, write, market, produce and star in a community television show designed to market the businesses and features of Boerne and the surrounding Hill Country.

The show was a positive creative, lively and fun show that created a buzz that continues to live on through the viral marketing links.

Her in house production, printing and creative team was always available to complete concepts, start new ones and meet deadlines. Her team was always going above and beyond the call for assisting the non profit community and the public.

I would highly recommend Penguin Suits as an energetic, creative marketing company that is capable to meet the challenges that your project needs with endless energy, creativity and problem solving. They have a unique way of looking at projects that is a great asset to any creative marketing effort.

Sincerely,

Dan Heckler
